We would like to invite you to attend this Conference. The exposition will consist of 60 exhibitors representing transportation organizations, transportation safety and advocacy groups, design consultants, and product distributors who can provide information to the conference attendees on new products and practices available to them.

The list of attendees for this Conference will include MaineDOT employees, design consultants, policy makers, public works directors, contractors, engineering students and other local transportation representatives. We expect a typical turnout of over 600 attendees.
